

An Apology to Mother Nature

Say something, I'm losing hope in you
I'm sorry that we're the reason it happened to you
Everywhere, we have ruined you

Why can't we be better for you?

And we're, the reason you've fallen
We were all selfish
And knew nothing at all

And we, have wasted and burned
Not knowing the way
We're killing our world

Say something, I'm losing hope in you
We're sorry that we ruined the world
Everywhere, we have killed you
Just recycle and be sustainable!

And we're, all swallowing our guilt
You're the one that we love
But we're losing you

Say something, I'm losing hope in you
We need to fix our mistakes
And we promise to do better by you
Just give us a chance to make it all right

Recycle, save energy, and do your part
I'm sorry that it took this long to change
